Description

Doctor Who props, costumes & rarities

ITEM DESCRIPTION

Screen-used 1980s Dr. Who icon, a Dalek Trooper costume and gun from Ressurrection Of The Daleks. Includes bodysuit, helmet, chest plate and web belt. It's a captain chest plate (red detailing) and a trooper suit (yellow detailing). The helmet has been recoditioned with new face plate and new bumps. The gun was reassembled from broken parts but has not been refinished. It is one of the non-light up ones (there were only about 2 of those). Also includes a pair of (recent) latex black gloves, so all you need is a pair of boots and you're ready to terrorize.

To kick off the 40th anniversary year of Dr. Who, I have decided to make available my collection. These items were obtained from various sources and most of them come with the documentation I received when I bought them. The majority were obtained from Steve Gostelow, an actor and designer who appeared as the Cyber Controller in More Than 30 Years In The Tardis. The majority of items in this collection were obtained by their original owners via auctions such as Bonhams in the 1990s, although I do not have any auction house paperwork other than anything mentioned in specific item descriptions. Many of these items have been on view on Richard Briggs' collector site and/or on the Howe/Bloomberg Transcendental Toybox site in the "collectors" section. While I have documented the authenticity of these items beyond reasonable doubt, as I am not the original owner, I make no guarantees about them.

Items in image may appear darker than they actually are. Whiteness on item (especially packaging) is usually caused by a reflection of camera flash or scanner light.

Please refer to my feedback if you have any doubts. Going by feedback alone, my customer satisfaction rating is about 99.75%, but unfortunately I have many revenge negatives from deadbeat bidders. You know how eBay is.
